

Major: World Politics, 2024-2025
400-level	Capstone thesis
300-level	Diplomacy of International Conflict Regional Trends: Russia in World Politics The International Politics of Climate Change Regional Trends: The Rise of China	Researching Terrorism and Counterterrorism Regional Trends: The EU in World Politics Religion in World Politics	Designing Policy Interventions: Peace-building, Development and Public Health The Lusophone South Atlantic Regional Trends: African History and Politics	Writing in Place: Landscape and Power in the Netherlands Politics of Cultural Memory Asia in Global History: From Colonialism to the Post-Cold War Era	Feminist Philosophy Violence, Gender and the Ethics of Care
Methodology courses 200 and 300-level	Political Research Methods (compulsory) Quantitative Research Methods Advanced Quantitative Methods (300-level) Qualitative Research Methods Cultural Visual Analysis Historical Methods Thinking about Politics
200-level	Leadership in Politics and Diplomacy: Practitioners' Perspectives Nations and Nationalism	Regionality in World Politics: Political Islam in the Middle East International and Regional Organisations in World Politics	Ethics of Contemporary War Conflict and Democracy	An American Century? The United States in the World since 1898	Intersectionality, Media and Conflict Gender & Development Anthropology of Gender and Sexuality
General knowledge courses 200-level	Struggles for Decolonisation: Past and Present
100-level	Introduction to International Relations and Diplomacy	Introduction Globalisation and Transnational Politics	Introduction to Peace and Conflict Studies	Birth of the Modern World	Introduction to Gender Studies Women, Human Rights and World Religions
Tracks	Core Track I: IR and Diplomacy	Core Track II: Global and Transnational Politics	Core Track III: Peace and Conflict Studies	Core Track IV: International History	Co-Convened: Gender Studies
	Major tracks				