

Governance of Migration and Diversity - (legal) LL.M

Study migration and diversity from legal, historical, sociological, political, and development perspectives combining expertise from three prestigious universities (Leiden, Delft, Erasmus Rotterdam). You will become an expert on migration, asylum, diversity, and non-discrimination law with an international and European focus.

Courses span multiple academic disciplines, including law, history, sociology, political science, and development studies, offering a broad, multidisciplinary education leading to a fully recognized LL.M. degree from Leiden University.

Why choose Governance of Migration and Diversity in Leiden?

- ▷ Study at three renowned universities and gain insights into migration and diversity from multiple disciplines, while earning an LL.M. from Leiden's law faculty;
- ▷ Work closely with your professors on practical problems in the privatissimum and practicum and translate your knowledge into legal arguments. Defend your ideas and arguments before a (moot) court;
- ▷ Build an international network across academic disciplines.

Career perspectives

Graduates, depending on their bachelor qualification, will be able to access the Dutch bar. The knowledge and skills gained during

Universiteit
Leiden
The Netherlands

More information and application

Discover the world at Leiden University

the LL.M., specifically because you can work in multidisciplinary environments, will enable you to pursue a career in:

- ▷ Law firms and other legal professions;
- ▷ NGOs and consultancy firms;
- ▷ Governments, ministries, agencies, or their international equivalents, such as the EU or UN, as as policymakers, policy advisors, or (legal) experts;
- ▷ Civil society organizations (e.g. unions, political parties, research institutes) at local, national, European, or international levels.

Moritz Jesse

Professor

We need lawyers who are well-informed about the historical, sociological and political background of migration. Today's diverse societies need legal professionals who can think outside of the legal box and are comfortable in a multidisciplinary environment.

Overview courses

Joint Courses (5 ECTS, followed together with students from other GMD tracks in Leiden, Rotterdam, or The Hague:

Governance of Migration and Diversity (5 EC)

History of Migration and Diversity (5 EC)

Sociology of Migration and Diversity (5 EC)

Politics of Migration and Diversity (5 EC)

Migration and Development (5 EC)

Law Courses (5 ECTS, followed with LL.M. students at Leiden Law School):

Protection of Human Rights (5 EC)

European and International Non-Discrimination Law (5 EC)

European and International Non-Discrimination Law: Privatissimum (5 EC)

European and International Migration and Asylum Law (5 EC)

European and International Migration and Asylum Law: Practicum (5 EC)

LL.M. Thesis GMD Legal (10 ECTS)

Facts & figures

Degree:
Master of Laws [LL.M.]

Language: English

City: Leiden

CROHO:
60084

Duration:
1 year

Mode of study:
Full-time /
part-time

Start:
September